Often described as the jewel in “The Garden County” of Wicklow, Powerscourt Estate is a timeless place of history and exploration. With 47 acres of landscaped gardens set against the stunning backdrop of the Sugarloaf Mountain, it has been identified as one of the top 3 gardens in the world by the National Geographic. Powerscourt Distillery enjoys a long heritage of dedication and craftsmanship, which is not only the ideal place to inspire a new generation of craftsmanship and whiskey appreciation, but the perfect setting in which to create it.

A 21-year-old single cask, fully aged in a bourbon cask. This is Irish single malt at its best!

The Distillery
Powerscourt Distillery and Visitor Centre combine grain-to-cask spirit production with fully immersive Irish whiskey visitor experiences. On-site warehousing provides ideal conditions for maturation, where the elements of wood and time play their critical roles. The distillery allows for both double and triple distillation, with three custom copper pot stills producing a smooth and fruity style of spirit. An advanced conversion vessel system ensures that a variety of pot still styles can be released over the years ahead.

Exceptional Expertise Meets Outstanding Intuition
Founding Master Distiller and Blender, Noel Sweeney, is a globally recognised expert and international multi-award-winning master who has devoted over 30 years to honing his skills in his craft. Passionate about his work and the production of Irish whiskey, his unique blend of spirit production and whiskey maturation has been under his careful supervision since the launch of Powerscourt Distillery until the end of 2021.

Fercullen 21 YO 2000
This single cask #20384, Straight Bourbon Cask, bottled at 53.7% is a complex dram that leaves one saying, 'limited edition of 419 bottles.'

Profile: Sherry & tropical.
Nose: Tropical fruits, passionfruit. In small notes of woody, nutty, baked pudding, vanilla. A slight hint of caramel and a vague whiff of citrus. Second nose is encore, pear juice, as ever no light note of vanilla, and a little note of the back of it all. In this case a rum-soaked stick. A slight note of vanilla, creamy notes, vanilla big oak, cassis. A hint of spice, and an abundance of oak. Concentrated fruit drops, amplifying themselves the more the whisky is allowed to open.

Palate: A incredible entry of Irish whiskey, creamy but a gentle mouthfeel with a finish that starts up everything all over again.

Finish: Long with an explosion of fruits, baked pudding, pineapple, poached fruits, spice, and syrup.

As the experts say, “If you’re lucky enough to be Irish... You’re lucky enough!” If you’re not, there’s always Irish whiskey.
